Fortune Pai Gow Poker

THE BASICS

In this modified game of traditional poker, each player and dealer receive seven cards from which each player must form two hands, one consisting of five cards (hi hand), and one consisting of two cards (low hand). Using the standard poker hand ranking method (see below), the players must organize their cards so that the five card hand ranks higher than the two card hand. If both hands beat the banker's two hands, the player wins. If both hands lose, the player loses. If one hand is higher and the other lower, the hand is a draw or push. Finally, Banker wins all tie hands.

In calculating the hand ranking, the joker is used as an Ace or to complete any straight or any flush. Bets are placed between the banker (which may be the House or another player acting as banker) and the other players. The House charges a 5% commission on all winning wagers. If you require assistance, the dealer or supervisor will be happy to assist you in setting the highest possible potential ranking hand according to House Ways. However, we cannot be responsible for any losses that may be incurred. The order of hands from highest to lowest is as follows:
